

Computer Technology Filtering

The United States Supreme Court has upheld the guidelines set forth in the Children's Internet Protection Act (CIPA); these guidelines must be followed by libraries that wish to receive E-rate funding.

Every computer, staff and patron, is filtered.

In order to comply with CIPA, the Library will subscribe to commercially available filtering software. Web sites will be filtered if they are in conflict with CIPA guidelines. The Library Director, working with the Board of Trustees and the library staff, is free to customize the filter to reflect the needs of the North Babylon Public Library.
